ALABAMA COLLEGE

BULLETIN

Helps for Home Economics Teachers

BY

LOUESA J. KEYS

Associate in Home Economics
Alabama College for Women

Published Quarterly by

ALABAMA COLLEGE

Montevallo, Alabama

Entered as Second-Class Mail Matter at Post Office, Montevallo, Ala.

INTRODUCTION

This pamphlet, as the name indicates, presumes no more than to "help" the busy home economics teacher, by listing usable books and magazines, illustrative material, and other necessary things, all of which she may know (?) but the information is tucked away in a note book or kept vaguely in mind. If she can lay her hand on this booklet and find even a few helps when most needed, then the work of compiling it is fully justified.

Acknowledgments are due the members of the Methods class of the fall term of 1924, who aided in collecting and cataloging material, and certain friends who made helpful suggestions and criticisms.

EQUIPMENT ADDRESSES

Equipment, so far as possible, should be purchased from local dealers. They are interested in the school and will in all probability get what you need and make a good price to you. However, since you must get the best for your money, it is well to study catalogs and be acquainted with qualities and prices before purchasing. In these days of unit kitchens, special cooking tables are not used but equipment is all made as homelike as possible. Lists of desirable utensils, etc., are found in the "Alabama Manual of Home Making," Department of Education, Montgomery; in "Teaching Home Economics" by Cooley, Winchell, Spohr, and Marshall and in "Equipment for Teaching Domestic Science" by Kinne, a pamphlet at 75c from Teachers' College.
